

myhosting.com Re-Launches Shared Web Hosting plans with enhanced Features

myhosting.com, a worldwide leader in Linux VPS, Windows Hyper-V VPS Hosting, Web Hosting and Hosted Exchange Email, has announced that it has re-launched its portfolio of shared web hosting plans based on CentOS Linux and Windows 2008, offering additional and enhanced features for new and existing customers.

Toronto, ON — October 20, 2011: myhosting.com has announced that it has launched a series of updates to its shared web hosting plans, offering new names and enhanced features for both its Linux and Windows Hosting product lines.

The Basic Web hosting plan, based on the CentOS Linux platform, has been rebranded as the Personal Website hosting plan, highlighting its popularity for personal uses such as blogging, WordPress hosting as well as Personal and Small Business use. Included with the new package a $25 credit for Bing and Yahoo! Search advertising, as well as a $25 Google Adwords credit, for a total of $50 in advertising credits.

The Premium web hosting plan has also been rebranded as the Business Hosting plan, highlighting its full feature set designed to give SMBs everything they need to get started with their online presence, from Microsoft Exchange-based email, to dual platform Windows and Linux shared hosting platforms as well as $100 in search advertising credits.

The most significant changes come with the launch of the eCommerce Hosting plan, previously known as the Professional package. This hosting package comes with all the standard features in the Business hosting plan, plus additional mailboxes and databases, as well as bundled eCommerce features that can help get businesses selling their products or services online. Included in the eCommerce features are a free installation and license for Pinnacle Cart, a leading shopping cart solution that touts a user friendly experience, designed specifically from a Marketing perspective, and offering PCI PA-DSS compliant features. Rounding out the package is a free RapidSSL Certificate which can be used with either the shopping cart or shared hosting webspace, as well as $150 in credits from Bing & Yahoo! Search advertising and Google Adwords.

“We feel that it’s important to help encourage our customers to achieve success, by providing them with the right services, products and incentives to encourage their business,” said Tim Attwood, Product Manager for myhosting.com. “When our customers succeed, we will also succeed”.

The full range of enhanced Shared Web Hosting plans available from myhosting.com are designed specifically with Individuals and Small to Medium Sized businesses in mind. For more information please visit <http://myhosting.com/web-hosting/>.
